

Boy Scouts of America and ChoicePoint® Background Screening – Program Information

The background check you have agreed to undergo will be conducted by ChoicePoint, a leading background screening company.

As part of a test project, ChoicePoint will, for the first time, give all applicants for an employment or volunteer position with the Boy Scouts of America the opportunity to review their background report at the same time the report is given to the Boy Scouts. It is important to note that:

- You will only be able to review your report if the background check has found a possible criminal history.
- If your report comes back clear or there is a non-criminal issue raised, you will only be told that the report has been forwarded on to the Boy Scouts for their review.

POSSIBLE CRIMINAL HISTORY

If a criminal history possibly associated with you is found, you will be asked to go to www.applicantreview.choicepoint.com, to take a brief identification verification quiz. This helps ensure that no one is posing as you to gain access to sensitive, personal information about you. Once you pass that quiz, you will be given the full criminal section of that report and asked a series of questions.

At the same time, you will be given the chance to provide any relevant information you think the Boy Scouts should know. If there is a criminal history you will be able to review your background check for 30 days from the time it is posted on-line.

REPORT TURNAROUND

It may take a few days for your report to make it into ChoicePoint's system so we encourage you to go to the link (www.applicantreview.choicepoint.com) in the next day or so and keep checking until it is there. Again, if the report comes back with no criminal history, you will not have a chance to see it through this system and will only be told that it has been sent on to the Boy Scouts.

Should you still be interested in seeing the full final report you may call 1-866-312-8075 and order from ChoicePoint, at no cost, your background report.
